advices to the state department officials indicated a regular development of the new government of Panama. The most important announcement indicative of a speedy establishment of full diplomatic relations with the new republic was the appointment of Philippe Ennau Varilla as the agent of Panama in the United ment officials indicated a regtions with the new republic was the appointment of Philippe Eunau Varilla as the agent of Panama in the United States. With him the United States government will transact any necessary business in an unofficial way, pending the appointment of regular ministers plenipotentiary.

treaty with Colombia, the spirit of the act will be met by the conclusion of an arrangement with the new state of Panama on the lines of the Spooner act, and it will proceed to this end. In other words, it is held that just as the engagements entered into by the United States with New Granada have ever since been regarded as binding in regard to Colombia, so, accepting the common law doctrine in such cases as binding, the department is authorized to read "Panama" instead of Colombia to read "Panama" instead of Colombia in the Spooner act. In this sense, it is pointed out, the president will find it unnecessary, unless he cares to do so, to go to congress for further legislation to authorize the construction of the Panama careal.

Walker's Part,

Walker's Part.

Significant of the strength of this decision was the appearance at the state department of Rear Admiral John G. Walker, U. S. N., retired, president of the isthmian canal commission, who has been in frequent conference with the president and Secretary Hay in the past three days. Upon him will prob-ably devolve the initiation of the practical working out of the canal project, and he is keeping himself fully posted as to every development here in Wash-Ington, while Colonel William Black of the engineer corps of the army, who the physical aspects of the canal rob-lem on the isthmus for the past few months, has been furnishing informa-

Mr. Gudger, the United States consult general to Panama, who sails tomorrow for that port, called at the state department today for a further conference with Secretary Hay, at whose instance he later conferred with the president over the situation.

Great Britain's Request.

The British government has formally requested the state department to look after the British subjects on the isthmus, and similar requests from other European nations are expected, all of which will be promptly granted. There are reasons why it is destrable that a large foreign naval representation is isthmian waters should be discouraged just now, and until the new government is permanently establishment, and as soon as there is a result of the case of the present point as soon as there is a result of the case of the present point as the state department has decided that so far as it is concerned the concessions, including that of the Parama Canal company, are valid and in force.

that so far as it is concerned it regards the treaties that governed Colombia or as to New Granada as still in force, and that therefore all of the concessions, including that of the Panama Canal company, are valid and in force.

Spooner Canal Act.

The state department also has decided that owing to the fact that the Spooner canal act in terms required the United States government before beginning the canal to conclude a treaty with Colombia, the spirit of the concessions, including that of the Panama Canal company, are valid and in force.

Peterson's Story.

Dr. Forbes saw Peterson, but his wounds were not given attention till about 2 o'clock, when Marshal Albert Engstrom reached the county jail with him as a prisoner. Peterson's face was bruised to a jelly. There was a cut under the left eye and another over the right eye, and each wound had to be sewed up with several stitches. The man's nose is also broken. While the doctor was working over him Peterson stated, in reply to a question from a freaty with Colombia, the spirit of the first quarrel.

Word received from Huntsville late tonight was that Coffin had regained consciousness several times during the afternoon and evening, but had lapsed into insensibility each time. It is be-lieved that he can survive but a short such a wound in the brain shall de-velop, for the reason that the inflam-mation will bring on meningitis.

ANARCHISTS MUST GO.

John Turner Will Be Sent Back to England.

Ringland.

New York, Nov. 7.—John Turner, the English anarchist, must submit to deportation, according to a decision by Judge Lacombe in the United States circuit court today. Pending an appeal to the supreme court at Washington, which it is understood will be taken. Turner must remain in custody on Ellis island until the case is finally settled.

Lawyer H. O. Pentecost, representing Turner, on the argument of the writ contended that the law which classified anarchists among excluded persons was unconstitutional. Anarchy, Mr. Pentecost claimed, was a religion, but this contention is disposed of by Judge Lacombe, who says:

"Under these conditions, in my judgment, our policy should be to consider and enact proper legislation covering the convention for reciprocal trade between the United States and Cuba; to make generous, not extravagant, appropriations at the regular session of congress for the public service; then to adjourn and return to our nomes; and the people, setting the seal of approval upon our action, will do the remainder, working out their own salvation.

Mr. Baker of New York proposed the following resolution, which was referred to a committee:

"Resolved, That, regardless of the practice of the Republicans, it is the sense of the caucus that its members do not accept passes or favors from the railroads."

Party Responsibility.

"The Republican party stands for those policies that have in the main prevailed since 1861, under which in forty years, from a comparatively small nation we have grown to be first among the nations of the earth; and sovereignty with us is the people. The Republican party, being in the majority, is responsible and is entitled to the credit.
